Probationary Period of Three Years

109. The Appointing Authority shall subject every officer appointed to a permanent post in the provincial council public service to a probationary period of three years.
110. An officer appointed subject to a period of probation shall prove his suitability for the relevant post by diligently fulfilling during such period, the obligations and responsibilities imposed on him by his letter of appointment, good conduct and attendance and efficient service.
111. An officer should be regarded as being on probation with a view to learning work and being tested for his suitability for permanent retention. He should not only be given all facilities for acquiring experience in the duties and responsibilities relevant to his post but also be under continuous monitoring, sympathetic observation and guidance.
112. Where, during his period of probation, he shows any tendencies which render doubtful his suitability for permanent retention, he should at once be warned and given such assistances as may be possible to correct his shortcomings by the Appointing Authority/ Administrative Authority. Any admonition administered for any serious act or omission or any fault of conduct or character which, if persisted in, may prevent his confirmation, should be communicated to him in writing and acknowledgement obtained. Such acknowledgment shall be conclusive proof of the fact that the officer was warned of his shortcomings and given an opportunity for improvement.
113. It shall be the duty of the Appointing Authority to terminate the services of an officer on probation against whom specific instances of misconduct cannot be urged but whose temperament, behavior and other defects render him unsuitable for further retention in the public service. In such an instance, the Appointing Authority shall ensure that all reasons which led to such a decision are recorded specifically and in detail in the relevant file and all factors that support such decision are kept secured. The letter of termination should be in the format of Appendix 07 with alterations where necessary.

114. The Head of the Department shall prepare review reports in respect of the first and second years of probation in the format of Appendix 08. On receipt of each of the report, it should be carefully considered and where necessary he should be warned of any shortcomings. Before the expiry of the period of probation, all three reports should be taken into consideration by the Appointing Authority and an order be made either confirming or extending the period of probation. The officer concerned should be informed of the decision in each case in writing.
115. If the Appointing Authority decides that the officer is not fit and suitable for confirmation, then the Appointing Authority may extend his period of probation by one year at a time subject to a maximum period of 03 years and shall defer the officer's increments. Such officer shall diligently engage in improving his performances during such extended period.
116. Where an inquiry into an irregularity committed by an officer on probation cannot be completed before the expiry of the period of probation, the appointment of such officer should be terminated or the period of probation extended taking into consideration the circumstances of the case.
117. At the end of each extended period of probation, the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution shall prepare a review report as per Appendix 08. Where such report reveals deficiencies that may prevent his suitability for confirmation in his post, it shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to extend or terminate the appointment of the officer subject to Sections 115 and 116 above. In such an instance, the Appointing Authority shall ensure that all reasons which led to such a decision are recorded in detail in the relevant file and all factors that support his decision are kept secured.

Probationary period of One Year

118. A public officer holding a permanent post in the public service when appointed to another permanent post in the public service shall be subject to a probationary period of one year. However, where the prior service and experience of an officer already confirmed in the public service is not a criterion of eligibility for the new post, such officer shall be subject to a probationary period of three years.
119. If the Appointing Authority deems that the probationary period of one year is inadequate considering the period the officer would normally require to fulfil any condition that may be laid down for confirmation in the new post, the Appointing Authority may determine a sufficient period of probation not more than three years.
120. Where a public officer whose appointment has been confirmed is appointed to another permanent post in the public service or provincial public service subject to a probationary period of one year, the Head of Department or Head of the Institution shall prepare a review report in respect of such officer in the format of Appendix 08.
121. Where such review report reveals any deficiencies that might prevent his suitability for confirmation in his post, such fact must be forthwith communicated to the officer in writing and timely guidance given by the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution and the Appointing Authority or the Administrative Authority shall defer the officer's increment and extend his period of probation by one year at a time subject to a maximum period of 03 years.
122. Where an inquiry into an irregularity committed by an officer on probationary period of one year cannot be completed before the expiry of the period of probation, the Appointing Authority shall take action to extend the probationary period of such officer taking into consideration the circumstances of the case.

Confirmation or Reversion or Termination of Appointment

123. An officer appointed to the provincial public service subject to a period of probation, shall prove within this period, his suitability for provincial public service by diligently fulfilling the obligations and responsibilities imposed on him by his letter of appointment, good conduct and attendance and efficient service. If at the end of the period of probation, the officer's work, conduct and attendance are judged to have been satisfactory, and if he has fulfilled all the requirements for confirmation in that appointment, the appropriate authority shall confirm his service with effect from the date of appointment concerned.

124. In the event of termination of the appointment of an officer appointed as per Section 118 above at the end of the period of probation, it shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to revert him to his former post. If the former post of the officer is no longer vacant, he shall be reverted to such post on supernumerary basis. However, when a vacancy occurs in the substantive post, he should be appointed to such substantive post. In such an instance, the Appointing Authority or Administrative Authority shall ensure that all reasons which led to such a decision are recorded in detail in the relevant file and all factors that support his decision are kept secured, as the case may be. Letter of reversion to the former post shall be prepared in the format of Appendix 09 with necessary alterations. When an officer is reverted and placed in his former post without a break in his former service, the conditions of appointment relating to his former post shall once again come into force.
125. The Appointing Authority shall take action to confirm the appointment or to extend the period of probation or to terminate the appointment of a an officer in the provincial public service on probation as soon as the officer concerned completes such period of probation. If his period of probation had been extended on grounds that were within his control, his salary increment shall invariably be deferred until he is confirmed in his post. All such decisions, whatever, shall be communicated to the officer in writing by the Appointing Authority. The officer shall have no claim whatsoever for salary increments deferred owing to his deficiencies.
126. Notwithstanding the fact that all the requirements have been fulfilled on the due date, appointment of a public officer is deemed to have been confirmed only after the issuance of a formal letter in the format of Appendix 10 to the effect that the relevant appointment has been confirmed by the Appointing Authority. Until such a letter is issued, the officer shall be deemed as not having been confirmed in his appointment. The relevant Appointing Authority shall be mindful of the fact that such letters should be issued duly and without delay in order to avoid any hardship that may be caused to the officer by the delay in issuing a letter even after the fulfilment of all requirements.
127. Where an officer in the provincial public service is unable to fulfil qualifications during the prescribed period for confirmation in his appointment owing to reasons beyond his control, the Appointing Authority may extend his period of probation by a reasonable period of time enabling him to obtain such qualifications. It shall be the duty of such public officer to obtain the required qualifications for confirmation in his appointment during the extended length of time. In such case, the officer shall be confirmed in his appointment with effect from the date of his appointment in such a manner that it will have no adverse effect on his seniority and salary increments. Provided, however, that the Appointing Authority shall terminate his appointment if the officer fails to obtain the required qualifications during the extended period of the probation owing to his negligence or inattention.
128. Where an officer in the provincial public service fails to qualify for confirmation at the proper time, that is within the initial period of probation, for reasons within his control, but qualifies for confirmation during an extension of the period of probation granted to him, the salary increment falling due after the expiry of the initial period of probation will be deferred by the length of time taken in excess of the initial period allowed to qualify and he shall be confirmed in his appointment with effect from the date of his appointment. In this case, the Appointing Authority shall issue a letter in the format of Appendix 10. Furthermore, the seniority in the service or grade of an officer so confirmed shall be determined by the date on which he acquired all necessary qualifications for confirmation.
129. However, where a public officer fails to complete the period of probation prescribed in his letter of appointment owing to a reason beyond his control such as reaching on the age of compulsory retirement or permanent release from the service, such a case shall be referred to the Hon. Governor to make a decision on the confirmation of the officer confirmed.

147. The effective date of passing an Efficiency Bar Examination by an officer shall be the commencing date of the examination at which he completes such requirement of the Efficiency Bar.
148. However, where the effective date mentioned in such certificates is a date prior to the appointment of the officer to the service, that officer can accordingly be released from the requirement of the relevant Efficiency Bar.

Delay in passing the Efficiency Bar Examination

149. Where an officer fails to pass an Efficiency Bar Examination on the due date, the Appointing Authority or the Administrative Authority or the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution, as the case may be, shall defer the salary increment of such officer with effect from that date and formally inform the officer of such fact. 151. An officer may be allowed to draw his salary increments during the period so extended. Furthermore, such an extended period shall not be an impediment for the promotions or for the seniority of the officer.

Determination of Seniority

159. The seniority of officers in a class or grade of a particular service in the provincial public service shall be determined based on the dates on which each of such officers was appointed to such class or grade in that particular service and the seniority of officers serving in the posts carrying equal status in a particular department or institution shall be determined based on the dates on which each of such officers assumed duties of that particular department or institution.
160. Where more than one officer had assumed duties on a particular day, their seniority shall be determined in the order of cumulative total of marks obtained by them at all the tests held for recruitment in accordance with the Service Minute or Scheme of Recruitment. Where there are officers who had obtained equal marks, all of them shall be deemed as having the same seniority.
161. Seniority of an officer in a grade or class shall only be altered in the following instances.
- I. Where he fails to pass the Efficiency Bar Examination as at the due date;
  - II. Where his probationary period is extended in terms of Section 125 of Chapter VIII of these Procedural Rules;

Accordingly, he will be junior to all officers whose length of service in that post or grade is equal to or more than the aggregate of his service in that particular post or grade. If he has not passed an Efficiency Bar Examination, he shall not be placed in seniority over any officer who has been promoted having passed the Efficiency Bar Examination.
  - III. If an officer is reverted at his own request and with the approval of the Appointing Authority to a post previously held by him, such reversion will be deemed as a new appointment and his seniority shall be determined by the date of reversion. Provided that, in case a salary step higher than the initial is allowed to such officer with the approval of the Director General of Establishments as per the provisions stated in the Establishments Code, his seniority may, with the approval of the Commission, be determined with reference either to the length of service in that post at the time he relinquished it or the time an officer appointed on the initial of the salary scale would take to reach that salary step, whichever is less.
  - IV. An officer who has been temporarily released on no pay leave for a post outside the provincial public service (see Chapter XII) will retain his seniority in his post or grade if he has passed the prescribed Efficiency Bar Examination, and that the no pay leave is deemed to have been granted on grounds of public policy for purposes of the Minutes on Pensions.
  - V. Where no pay leave is not granted or not deemed to have been granted on grounds of public policy for the purpose of Section 10 (1) of the Minutes on Pensions, the period of such temporary release shall not be counted for seniority and such officer shall be ranked as junior to all those officers whose length of service in the particular post or grade on the date on which he reverts to his former post is more than his service up to the date on which he was temporarily released.
  - VI. Where an officer being appointed to a new post in the provincial public service itself is duly reverted or returned to his former post by the Appointing Authority during the training period or probationary period related thereto for reasons other than disciplinary grounds, the period served by such officer in such post he subsequently held shall be deemed as part of his service in determining his seniority in his former post.
163. An officer who has been permanently released in terms of the provisions in Chapter XII shall have no right of reversion to his former post or service.
- I. However, the Commission may consider a request for reversion of an officer to his former post or grade within a period of one year from the date of his release only upon the following circumstances.

Before the decision, the Appointing Authority shall satisfy himself that the officer has fulfilled all the requirements for his promotion by that due date, (irrespective of the fact that the officer is no longer in service or retired or deceased).
