(vii) The left-hand margin of the answer sheet is set apart for you to enter the number of the question you answer. The right hand margin is reserved for the examiner's use and nothing should be written there. Number your answers correctly as incorrect numbering leads to confusion.

(viii) You should read carefully the instructions given at the head of the question paper, with regard to the compulsory questions and the manner in which the other questions should be selected. Disregard to these instructions is often liable to affect you adversely.

(ix) When Mathematics Questions are answered, give all details of calculations and any roughwork, in their serial order as part of the working of the problem. Necessary sketches, diagrams and figures should be accurate and sufficiently large. In an answer running into several pages if reference must be made to a diagram drawn in an earlier page, that diagram should be drawn repeatedly.

(x) At the end of each paper, arrange your answer sheets in the order you answered the questions. Then using the piece of twine supplied, tie them up at the top left hand corner. Do not tie up at the top right hand corner.

(xi) You should personally handover your answer script to the Supervisor or to an Invigilator. Or else remain in your seat till it is collected. Failure to do so may result in the loss of your script and your being treated as an absentee for the paper. On no account should your script be handed over to a peon or an attendant.

(xii) If it becomes necessary for you to speak to the Supervisor or an Invigilator, or if you need stationery, remain in your seat and raise your hand.

PART B

Read the following passage carefully and then answer the questions set out below:

Most modern political ideals such, for example, as justice, liberty, constitutional government, and respect for the law or at least the definitions of them, began with the reflection of Greek thinkers upon the institutions of CityState. But in the long history of political thought the meaning of such terms has been variously modified and always that meaning has to be understood in the light of the institutions by which the indicates were to be realized and of the society in which those institutions did their work. The Greek City States was so different from the political communities in which modern men live that it requires no small effort of the imagination to picture its social and political life. The Greek Philosophers were thinking of political practices far different from any that have prevailed commonly in modern world, and the whole climate of opinion in which the work was done was different. Their problems though not without their analogies in the preset, were never identical with modern problems, and the ethical apparatus by which political life was evaluated and criticized varied widely from any that now prevails. In order to understand at all accurately what their theories meant is necessary first to realize at least roughly what kind of institutions they had in view and what citizenship connected, as an effect and as an ideal, to the public for whom they wrote. For this purpose the Government of Athens-is especially important, partly because it is the best known, but chiefly because it was an object of special concern to the greatest of Greek Philosophers.

As compared with modern states the ancient City-State was exceedingly small both in area and in population. The numbers were exceedingly uncertain but, a figure somewhat in excess of three hundred thousand would be approximately correct. Such an arrangement of a small territory dominated by a single City was typical off the City State.

In each of the following cases, choose the alternative which in your opinion supports the views expressed in the above passage. Place a tick (right mark) against the correct answer:-

51. Athens is significant for the students of Greek political thought mainly because

 - (b) not at all easy
 - (c) impossible

for a modern man to imagine what life was like in a Greek City-State.
55. In comparison with the ancient Greek City States are
 - (a) very large
 - (b) very small
 - (c) about the same size
56. The population of an ancient Greek City States was
 - (a) much less that 300,000

Syllabus Guidelines :

The following notes are designed to give teachers an idea of the scope of the Ordinary level Spanish question papers. The notes intended to be comprehensive but they provide guidance on the linguistic content of the examination.

Knowledge of an ability to use the structures listed below may be tested in any language area within the normal range of the imaginative or real experience of the average school pupil of 15 or 16. It would clearly be impossible to produce a comprehensive list of such areas but they would include the family, school, life in town and country, transport and travel, shopping, eating and drinking, holidays, sport, usual professions and occupations.

The language of Ordinary Level, as compared with Advanced Level, is more straight forward and does not involve very complex description or complicated intellectual process. The registers are narrative with simple description, or conversation; a very colloquial flavour, as well as a very literary or technical flavour, is avoided. It should however, be noted that where no production of Spanish is required the language may well be more complex and may contain some lexical items not necessarily actively known by pupils for whom the examination is intended.

Use of ser and estar.
2. Pronouns: conjunctive, disjunctive, demonstrative, common indefinite, interrogative, possessive, relative; position of pronouns; use of se.
3. Articles (definite and indefinite including neuter lo).
4. Nouns : gender and number.
5. Adjectives : qualifying, numeral (cardinals and lower ordinals), demonstrative, indefinite, interrogative, possessive, compound, masculine / feminine and plural forms (of regular and common irregular adjectives), comparative and superlative; agreement and position; adverbial use; apocopation.
6. Adverbs: form and position, comparative and superlative; adverb phrases; negative expressions.
